Brief Description

Decorative resin bound stone carpet was required for changing room areas.

Main Problem and Requirements

A tough individual look floor was required to various changing areas. It needed to be decorative, tough and resilient against clumping boots and ski-wear, along with a reasonably non-slip finish.

The stone carpet was selected, which is a mortar produced using a resin binder mixed with millions of small pebbles. Many types of stone can be used for this beautiful and versatile “rocky” floor.
