The National Museum of Ireland, Dublin

©

Reference data

- Building activity
  Façade restoration / natural stone
- Object type
  Schools / universities / museums
- Object address
  , 2 Dublin
- Date / Completion
  2010
- Contractor
  The National Museum of Ireland
- Viewing possible?
  No

Description

The National Museum of Ireland was built in 1856 to house the Royal Dublin Society’s growing collections, which had expanded continually since the late 18th Century. Refurbishment of the Museum took place in 2010.

Problem

Remmers Cleaning systems were chosen along with Remmers RM for it's refurbishment.

Product systems / sizes used

› RM
Art. No. 0750

Further information can be found on:

https://www.remmers.co.uk/en_GB/referenceDetail/2820