St. John's Cathedral, Limerick

© Remmers UK Remmers UK

Reference data

- Building activity
  Façade restoration
- Object type
  Churches / cloisters
- Object address
  , V94 H521 Limerick
- Contractor
  Carrig
- Viewing possible?
  No

Description

St. John's Cathedral is one of Limerick cities best Known landmarks designed in 1859 by Architect Thomas Hardwick.

Problem

Limerick Cathedral was in need of restoration, so Architects Carrig chose Remmers cleaning systems to remove Algae growth prior to treating the building with Remmers hydrophobic impregnation, Funcosil SNL.

Product systems / sizes used

› Funcosil SNL

Art. No. 0602

Further information can be found on:

https://www.remmers.co.uk/en_GB/referenceDetail/2433